Fukushima Prefectural Police Headquarters

Public Safety Commission

The Public Safety Commission (PSC) System plays an important role in maintaining the democratic operation and political neutrality of the police administration. In this system, the Prefectural Public Safety Commissions (PPSCs) are set up to supervise prefectural police. At regular meetings, the PPSCs receive reports on incidents, accidents, disasters, the police efforts based on them, organizational status, and other matters from chiefs of Prefectural Police. Based on the reports, the PPSCs supervise the Prefectural Police by giving guidance to the Prefectural Police. In addition, the PPSCs undertake administrative tasks about issuing driver's license, regulating traffic, supervising antique dealings, etc., attend the police station councils, and conduct on-site inspections of police activities in order to strive to maintain an understanding of the state of public safety and police operation.
